

November 26, 2018

To our guests,

The current CDC Alert posted on November 26, 2018 advises consumers to avoid consumption of romaine lettuce sourced from northern and central California.

Zaxby's confirms that our current romaine lettuce supply is only from regions outside the CDC's Food Safety Alert.

We are continuously monitoring the situation, and will provide updates if anything changes. The safety of our guests and the integrity of our food remain the most important priorities for Zaxby's.

Further updates from the CDC are available at the following link:
